RE: S.C. Barker Construction Company

To Whom It May Concern,

S.C. Barker Construction Company recently completed a design/build project which included an addition and major renovations to the memory care unit at my 142 bed assisted living facility in Valdosta, GA. The new construction began in June 2012 and was completed in November, ahead of schedule. The renovations began in November and were completed in early January 2013, also ahead of schedule. Mr. S.C. Barker, Nayan Patel, and their staff maintained a high standard of excellence throughout the project. The workmanship of their employees and subcontractors was of high quality. They communicated regularly and effectively. They were genuinely interested in every detail of the job. The subcontractors were professional and thorough as well.

As a business owner, I understand the importance of maintaining good relationships with clients. Often times, relationships are damaged due to unresolved offenses or unmet expectations. S.C. Barker Construction took measures above and beyond their contractual agreement to ensure the job was completed to my satisfaction. The final punch-list was very short due to their attention to detail throughout the job. The few items on the punch-list were handled promptly with no questions asked.

Please accept my high recommendation for S.C. Barker Construction for your design and/or building needs.

Sincerely,

John LaHood

Senior Administrator/General Partner
